Call to Order

The Vice-Chair of Senate, Mr Christopher Roach, called the seventh regular meeting of the Vancouver Senate for the 2014/2015 academic year to order at 6:05 pm.

Senate Membership

The Registrar, Dr Kate Ross, declared the seat of Professor Isabel Grant, Faculty Representative for the Faculty of Law, vacant due to her resignation from Senate.

Minutes of the Previous Meeting

With consent of Senate, the Vice-Provost, Dr Angela Redish advised that as a clerical error was confirmed for the enrolment targets approved for the faculties of Dentistry, Medicine, and...
Pharmaceutical Sciences, and for non-degree students and residents: 24 MD/PHD students were not included in the total for the Faculty of Medicine (although they are also students in the Faculty of Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies), and 1305 residents were mistakenly included in the undergraduate student totals for the three faculties.

By general consent, the previously approved resolution was amended to add 24 FTE to the target for the Faculty of Medicine for MD/PHD program, to transfer all FTE totals for residents from the undergraduate student targets for faculties of Dentistry, Medicine, and Pharmaceutical Studies to the target for residents, and to increase the University’s total targeted enrolment by 24.

CURRICULUM COMMITTEE

Mr Eaton confirmed that the issue noted with the requirements for the Minor in Honours Mathematics conflicting with the general Minor in Science requirements for the Bachelor of Applied Science program was corrected via a category 2 curriculum change.

OTHER BUSINESS

Mr Eaton confirmed that Vice-President Miles was travelling and thus was not available for this meeting. He agreed to confirm her availability for a future meeting of Senate.

Presentation of Certificates of Appreciation to Student Representatives from 2014-2015

As Acting President, Provost David Farrar presented certificates of thanks to student members of Senate who were completing their terms of office on 31 March 2015; it was noted that some students had been or were standing for re-election.

The Vice-Chair reminded outgoing student senators that they were to remain on their assigned committees until replaced.

Report from the Provost

ESTABLISHMENT OF THE DAVID R. CHARITON CHAIR IN COMPUTER SCIENCE

David Farrar Philip Loewen

That Senate approve the establishment of a new Chair within the Department of Computer Science, under the name David R. Cheriton Chair in Computer Science.

The Provost spoke to the substantial nature of the donation to UBC by UBC’s alumnus and google investor Dr Cheriton, and the opportunities this new chair would give to UBC in Computer Science.
INTRODUCTION OF NEW ASSOCIATE VICE-PRESIDENT, EQUITY AND INCLUSION

The Provost introduced the new AVP Equity and Inclusion Dr Sara-Jane Finlay, outlining her academic background and work at the University of Toronto.

Dr Finlay stated that she would appreciate to meet and get to know UBC.

Dr Farrar advised that her appointment coincides with a focus on equity and inclusion in response to the action plan that came out of the taskforce on the president’s taskforce on equity and gender-based violence following the chants in the Sauder School of Business. The Provost noted that that taskforce led to 14 recommendations that came to the administration, which resulted in an action plan including recommendations around curriculum that the Provost committed to bring forward to Senate.

Academic Policy Committee

Disestablishment of the College for Health Disciplines

Paul Harrison
Michael Coughtrie

{That Senate approve the disestablishment of the College of Health Disciplines and the transfer of its current responsibilities to the Office of the Provost, effective July 1, 2015.}

Senator Nasmith explained that the proposal outlined both the rationale for the disestablishment of the College and for the transfer of its current responsibilities.

Senator Baimbridge stated that the document made clear that some responsibilities would go to the Associate-Provost Health as set out in a blueprint for UBC Health and asked what the status was for that initiative and this appointment.

Dr Farrar advised that Dr Nasmith currently held an appointment as Associate-Provost Health. The plan contemplates an office of a Vice-Provost Health with a number of structures within it, including a large emphasis on education. The Provost’s office has a responsibility to support faculties and this change would allow us to better support the initiatives currently within the College. There is also a research and a practice office envisioned. We are presently considering continuing the current Dean of Medicine as Vice-Provost Health as part of the Academic Health Sciences Network. The Provost further advised that the Vice-Provost Health office would be a virtual structure to integrate our health activities around education, research, and practice. The University has spent the past 50 years trying to integrate its health plans. We at first contemplated academic structural changes, but the complexity of moving things through our structures was daunting.
Senator Thorne was supportive of the dissolution but acknowledged the successes of the College and the leadership of John Gilbert as its first principal and Louise Nasmith as its second.

Senator Coughtrie advised that as a member of the group who reviewed the College, he noted the high regard the group had for the Principal and her work.

Senator Forwell noted that the idea behind the College was to pull things together, but under a formal academic structure. The structure we are moving into is less entrenched in the academy but more in the administration. It would be less solid as a result. She asked if this would threaten the interdisciplinary and education mission of the College.

The Provost replied that universities change and can and do move in different directions. Our structures provided rigidity and universities are among the oldest institutional bodies in continuous existence on earth. Health is one of the greatest issues facing western democracies, and our structures should not stand in the way of working in this area. The College had tables were those discussions were rich and stimulating but it wasn’t always possible to act on those initiatives with the same authority that could be at the Academic Vice-President’s office. A new faculty was not viewed as an option as it would subsume more than half of the University.

Dr Nasmith advised that the College did not have the ability to make good decisions and then act on them. We have moved beyond courses and activities and into integration in practice education.

Senator Gilbert noted that each year, the Librarian has presented to Senate a report on the activities of the Library, and that it served a useful function for Senate to hear and understand the issues facing the Library. He asked the Provost if on an annual basis a similar report on health sciences at UBC could be produced for Senate.

The Provost agreed.

Senator Ruitenberg asked why a course was being deleted as part of the proposal.

Dr Nasmith advised that the ethics course was being deleted as its content was being integrated into other programs.

Dr Marshall advised that this was in the proposal for background but not part of the proposal.

Senator Gurm noted that he had participated in the College and found it to be beneficial, but as a member of its Council he also realized its limitations and supported its dissolution at this time.

Approved
Establishment of the Institute for the Oceans and Fisheries and Disestablishment of the Fisheries Centre

Paul Harrison
Richard Anstee

That Senate approve and recommend to the Board of Governors the establishment of the Institute for the Oceans and Fisheries in the Faculty of Science effective July 1, 2015;

That the administration of the Fisheries Streams within the Resource Management and Environmental Studies (RMES) graduate programs be transferred from the Fisheries Centre to the Institute for the Oceans and Fisheries, effective July 1, 2015; and,

That Senate approve and recommend to the Board of Governors the disestablishment of the Fisheries Centre in the Faculty of Science effective July 1, 2015.

Dean Peacock noted that this proposal was a broadening of the Fisheries Centre and a name change. The Fisheries Centre has a worldwide reputation and the new Institute was designed to broaden that reputation to beyond just fisheries. It would bring forward faculty from across UBC who work in a variety of departments and faculties. He advised that once one substantive change would be that the Institute’s faculty would have departmental academic unit homes rather than within the unit.

Chancellor Gordon suggested that broadening the mandate made sense, but asked if we had considered how the Institute would compete or fit with other universities and organizations.

Dean Peacock replied that we had looked at programs around the world, and realized that UBC was not organized properly to reflect our collective strength. He described the University of Victoria as a competitor in a way, although noted that UBC had around 4 times the research strength within the proposed Institute. He further noted that the University of Victoria was also a collaborator; for instance, UBC will work with them on Canada First Research Excellence Fund (CFREF) applications in this area. This proposal was in part to have UBC’s existing strengths better recognized.

Establishment of the Institute for Critical Indigenous Studies

Paul Harrison
Susan Forwell

That Senate approve and recommend to the Board the establishment of the Institute for Critical Indigenous Studies in the Faculty of Arts; and,

That the administration of the First Nations and Indigenous Studies and the First Nations and Endangered Languages Programs be transferred to the Institute for Critical Indigenous Studies.”

Senator Harrison noted that there was been remarkable growth in the study of First Nations and indigenous studies at UBC over the past number of years.

Dean Averill noted that in part this proposal was to give a home to the (First Nations and Indigenous Studies (FNIS) and First Nations and Endangered languages (FNEL) programs, and more to strengthen UBC’s commitment to Indigenous Studies.

Senator Ahmed asked if there was a concern with the acronym of the unit being the same as a Syrian terrorist organization.

Dean Averill replied that this was not a strong concern; it was not named after them nor after the Egyptian Goddess. He suggested that in practice we would refrain from using the name as an acronym.

Senator Forwell asked about the inclusion of “critical” in the name, specifically with regard to critical studies.

Dean Averill advised that “critical” was chosen to differentiate the unit’s focus from those that were more celebratory and less critical in nature. The programs themselves are not labeled as critical. We considered many alternatives and none captured the nature of the program in the way that the word critical did, and within the academy this is a well-understood modifier.

Senator Forwell agreed, but asked if this would be understood by outside audiences.

Dean Averill replied that given the very contested terrain in Canada, it was important that we made clear to the academy what the nature would be of our proposed unit.

Admissions Committee

Mrs Carol Jaeger presented on behalf of the Senate Admissions Committee.

SUSPENSION OF ADMISSION: BACHELOR OF DENTAL SCIENCE IN DENTAL HYGIENE, DEGREE Completion Option, Category 2

Approved
That Senate approve suspension of admission to the Bachelor of Dental Science in Dental Hygiene Degree Completion Option Category 2, effective for the 2016 Winter Session and thereafter.

Senator Jaeger noted that there were many pathways for entry into the program. The concern was for the quality of the program being offered at pathway institutions and UBC needed time to evaluate those programs.

Admission & Curriculum Committees

The Chair of the Senate Curriculum Committee, Dr Peter Marshall, presented.

See Appendix A: Applied Masters Programs and Courses

Dr Marshall explained that these programs followed the platform and pillar model set out the previous month for engineering graduate professional programs.

MASTER OF ENGINEERING LEADERSHIP IN DEPENDABLE SOFTWARE

That the new Master of Engineering Leadership (M.E.L.) in Dependable Software Systems program and its associated new and revised courses be approved.

Senator Kessler asked if the admission requirement for work experience requirements could not be also met by additional coursework.

Senator Jaeger suggested that this paragraph was redundant and that there was additional material that set out how students could potentially make up with academic and work.

By general consent, the proposal was amended to strike the conflicting section under Admission requirements on page 121 relating to prior work experience.

In response to a question, Mrs Jaeger confirmed that the intent was to offer the programs starting in January 2015.

Senator Ahmed asked what the actual credential name would be and how it would be appreciated, noting that in the past we created a “MELNAME” for the Master of Engineering Leadership in Naval Architecture and Marine Engineering, but that these degrees would be simply Masters’ of Engineering Leadership (MEL).
Mr Eaton replied that their intent would be to call the credential the MEL with various specializations indicated by their names or further initials.

Senator Forwell asked what the relationship would be with the Faculty of Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies for these students.

Senator Jaeger replied that the programs would be administered and awarded through the Faculty of Applied Science directly, in a similar way to how the Master of Engineering was administered.

MASTER OF ENGINEERING LEadersHIP IN GREEN BIOPRODUCTS

Peter Marshall
Carol Jaeger

That the new Master of Engineering Leadership (M.E.L.) in Green BioProducts program and its associated new course code and new courses

Carol Jaeger

Senator Harrison noted that this was yet another new credential and asked if further specializations under that credential could be developed.

With consent of Senate, Dr Elizabeth Croft, Associate Dean of the Faculty of Applied Science replied, stating that the Faculty would be open to that if Nursing was to propose further programs under the M.H.L.P. credential.

MARCH CURRICULUM REPORT

See Appendix B: Curriculum Report

Peter Marshall  }  That the new courses and new course code brought forward by the faculties of Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies (Arts), Land and Food Systems, and Medicine be approved.

Graham Beales
Richard Anstee

} That Senate accept the awards as listed and forward them to the Board of Governors for approval; and that letters of thanks be sent to the donors.

Mr Beales noted that we had 8 new awards and 36 revisions.

Senator Ahmed asked if the UBC Law Student Emergency Award (award #8539), which was proposed to be broadened to include graduate students, had ever been exhausted.

The Dean of Law replied that she was unsure, but the change was proposed to better implement the original intent of the donor.

Awards are adjudicated by Enrolment Services.

Why and how amended: As requested by the Faculty, student eligibility has been broadened to allow graduate students to be considered for the emergency funding as well.

Previously-Approved Awards with Changes in Method of Payment:

Why and how amended: Effective for the 2015 Summer Session, the method of administering payment for the following graduate awards will change from Payroll to the SISC. The award terms and funding source are unchanged. Large awards (> $15,000 per year) used to be administered through Payroll because the SISC was not capable of direct deposit to the recipient’s bank account. Effective January 2015, SISC became capable of direct deposit. Changing the method of administering payment will better align with how other funding administered by G+PS is distributed.
