Remarks from the Chair

The President, Professor Ono, advised that since the last meeting of Senate, progress had been made in the following areas of implementation of the strategic plan:

- We have launched another call for collaborative research clusters, as well as enhanced funding for a special open call to support the development of competency-based learning outcomes.
- We have also been working with Faculties and units to identify new initiatives that could be started within the 2018/19 fiscal year. There has been great enthusiasm from our campuses, with more than 50 proposals received. These are currently being reviewed by the Responsible Executives.
- We are planning on having another open call later this year in support of enhancing Undergraduate Research opportunities, and we will be working over the fall with faculty partners and the community to develop additional open calls for the 2019/2020 year.

Professor Ono noted that earlier this month, UBC celebrated the legacy of Michael Smith on the occasion of the 25th anniversary of his Nobel Prize, and on behalf of UBC, he participated in the installation of Harvard University President Lawrence S. Bacow.

The President noted that later this week, UBC and Simon Fraser University will jointly confer honorary degrees on His Highness, the Aga Khan in recognition of the his lifelong service to humanity. Professor Ono noted that UBC has many ties with His Highness the Aga Khan. We are proud to have partnered with the University of Central Asia (UCA), founded by the Aga Khan, in developing course material for the UCA program in Earth and Environmental Science. Similarly, we have helped the Aga Khan Academy gain recognition for its Teacher Preparation Program and we have collaborated with the Aga Khan Music Initiative in cultural and artistic presentations.

Finally, Dr Ono noted that earlier in the year, UBC and its Association of Professors Emeriti created an Emeritus College at the University of British Columbia—the first in Canada. The College will sustain UBC’s commitment to encouraging and facilitating the involvement of emeriti in the university. He welcomed the Vice-Principal of the College, Dr Donald Fisher, who with Senate’s consent, spoke.

Dr Fisher noted that today was the first official day for the College after having been approved by the Senate in May and Board in June. He thanked Dr Ono for championing and encouraging the development of the college. He noted that this was the emeritus college in Canada, and the UBC Emeriti Association was the first association in Canada 30 years ago. He thanked those who participated in the development of the college.

Academic Policy Committee

The Chair of the Senate Academic Policy Committee, Dr Paul Harrison, presented.

Paul Harrison
Michael Coughtrie

That the amended Calendar language for grading practices proposed by the Faculty of Pharmaceutical Sciences be approved as set out in the attached two-column form.

Dr Harrison advised that this was a small but important change to clarify grading in Pharmacy for students who take classes outside of the Faculty.

Admissions Committee

The Chair of the Senate Admissions Committee, Professor Carol Jaeger, presented.

Carol Jaeger
Michael Isaacson

That Senate approve the suspension of admission to the UBC Vantage College Management Stream, effective for admission to the 2019 Winter Session.

Awards Committee

The Chair of the Senate Awards Committee, Dr Lawrence Burr, presented.

AWARDS REPORT

See Appendix A: Awards Report

Lawrence Burr
John Shepherd

That Senate accept the awards as listed and forward them to the Board of Governors for approval; and that letters of thanks be sent to the donors.

Senator Leuprecht asked for a justification as to why the Indigenous scholarships were listed at $5,000 while the general pool scholarships were listed at $10,000.

The Registrar, Dr Ross, replied that indigenous students were eligible for both, the goal of the differentiation was to make clear that additional funding was available for indigenous students. She noted that we were preparing a report for the Board on indigenous support and this was a point that could be considered.

Dr Harrison asked if the Blue and Gold campaign had a specific effort to seek financial support for indigenous students.

The President replied yes, and we were trying to earmark additional funding through that campaign.

Senator Holmes asked if matching funds could have an emphasis on indigenous scholarships as this was an internal source of funds.

The President said that this was an excellent suggestion.

Senator Kindler asked if we could develop guidelines for the process of adjudicating awards for indigenous students. She suggested that we have guidelines that clarify that current processes with all students first being considered for all awards, and that this was not a good practice in the past.

The Registrar clarified that Dr Kindler’s suggestion was the current practice.

Dr Kindler said that this should be made more explicit.

Dr Singh asked why we were renaming the indigenous scholarships after the President and Provost rather than after noted indigenous scholars.
Dr Ross said that the centennial scholarship program’s branding opened the idea of how to best brand the Blue and Gold campaign scholarships. It was noted that many institutions named them after their most senior administrators and the recommendation was made to do the same and this may, for instance, have the President award it.

Dr Ono advised that he didn’t care if they were named after his office.

Senator Golsteyn asked why the Major Entrance scholarship was being increased from $40 000 to 60 000.

Dr Ross replied that there was a calculation made of student need and available funding. We do not expect to be offering fewer scholarships due to this change.

CURRICULUM COMMITTEE

The Vice-Chair of the Senate Curriculum Committee, Senator Jaeger, presented on behalf of Senator P. Marshall.

OCTOBER CURRICULUM REPORT

See Appendix B: Curriculum Report

Carol Jaeger
Amber Shilling

That the new courses brought forward by the faculty of Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies (Arts) be approved.”

Nominating Committee

The Chair of the Senate Nominating Committee, Dr Richard Tees, presented.

PRESIDENTIAL SEARCH PROCEDURES
That Senate approve the procedures for the recommendation and selection of candidates for President and Vice-Chancellor of The University of British Columbia as set out in the attached proposal.

Report from the Provost

ESTABLISHMENT OF THE INDIAN RESIDENTIAL SCHOOL HISTORY AND DIALOGUE CENTRE

That Senate approve and recommend to the Board of Governors the establishment of the Indian Residential School History and Dialogue Centre within the Peter A. Allard School of Law as set out in the attached proposal.

Senator Hamid asked what would happen in the future if the Centre was directed by a faculty member in a faculty who couldn’t not support it.

The Provost, Dr Szeri, replied that there would be continuity beyond the director, reporting lines changing or not.

Senator Harrison thanked the Provost for bringing this proposal to Senate and making clear the structure of the Centre.

Senator Gilbert asked where the involvement of the indigenous community was in the Centre’s proposed organizational structure.

The Provost replied that there were two advisory committees, one of archiving of material, and one on the subject-matter of the Centre.

Senator Gilbert asked what the relationship would be with the First Nations House of Learning.

The Provost replied that this was a separate administrative unit that organized indigenous activates and provided various programs to enhance indigenous student lives and educations.

NB: Senator Shilling abstained.
REPORT FROM THE LIBRARIAN

The University Librarian, Ms Susan Parker, presented her annual report.

She thanked the Senate Library Committee, the Provost, and the librarians, archivists, and library staff.

Senator Holmes said that the loss in purchasing power due to inflation and the exchange rate was a clear problem. He asked if there was long term planning on how to deal with this issue? Increased budget? Offsets?

    Ms Parker said that we had a number of people who work on the best deals we can get, and try to have things priced in Canadian dollars when available.

Dr Singh asked if the libraries in Canada could band together to collectively negotiate a better rate.

    Ms Parker replied that we were already doing so.

Dr Singh asked how our spending breakdown compared to other institutions.

    Ms Parker replied that they were generally very similar over the past decade and we try to keep it that way.

Senator Forwell noted the role of the library in education of students. She mentioned librarians giving lectures and assisting students with unique features and abilities in the library. She also thanked the library for allocating space for students and helping to fulfill UBC’s educational mission.

Senator Loewen noted that open access material was another way to address budget shortfalls and lamented that faculty worked for free for the journals that gouge us.

    Ms Parker noted that the library agreed with such sentiments. Publishers have learned to counteract moves we make. We try to make as much open as we can, but we need to work together as the cycle was also linked to the promotion and tenure system. They are a highly concentrated industry that was increasingly owned by investment funds.

Other Business

Senator Singh asked, in reference to the Galloway situation, what we learned from that experience and how we could avoid it for the future.
The Provost said that since that time we have made a lot of changes at UBC, including the establishment of the Sexual Violence Prevention and Response Office, and the Independent Investigations Office; the landscape has changed dramatically since the aforementioned situation.

Senator Singh asked if any policy changes have been made in light of what happened.

The President said that we cannot comment on this particular case but he would provide the senator information on general policy aspects.

Adjournment

Seeing no other business, the meeting was adjourned at 7:02 pm.

Re: Amendment of the Rules and Procedures of Senate

Date: 21 November 2018

The Senate Agenda Committee has noted that the Chair of the Senate now begins meetings by acknowledging the indigenous territory upon which the Senate meets. The Agenda Committee supports this practice and recommends that the Senate show its support for such an acknowledgment by formalizing it within the Rules and Procedures of Senate.

The Agenda Committee therefore recommends that Senate resolve as follows:

That the Rules and Procedures of Senate be amended to include a new Section 21(b)(i) to read "Call to Order and Territorial Acknowledgement";

and

That all subsequent and referential section and section reference numbers be amended accordingly.

c. In accordance with general legislative rules, no cameras, tape recorders or other electronic equipment may be used except at the discretion of the Chair.

d. The Senate may resolve to consider items of the agenda in camera.

e. The consideration of candidates for honorary degrees shall be in camera.

RE: Policy V-200.2: Student Awards

The Senate Awards Committee is pleased to recommend:

Motion: That Senate approve Policy V-200.2: Student Awards, effective 1 September 2019.

Over the course of the 2017-18 academic year and summer 2018, the Senate Awards Committee engaged in a scheduled review of Senate Policy V-200: Student Awards. As a result of this review and the associated campus-wide consultation process, the Committee has completed a comprehensive revision of the policy.

The most significant change to the policy is a reduction in the total credit-load required for awards eligibility from 27 to 24 credits. To ensure that students could benefit from this change in the current academic year, this change was approved by Senate at its May 2018 meeting, and is currently in effect.

The changes reflected in the current proposal are less substantial, and primarily include editorial amendments, and codification of existing practices not contained in the current policy. These include:

1. Updating of language pertaining to adherence to human rights legislation, drafted in consultation with the Office of University Counsel (paragraph 3)

2. Documentation of the process for updating and revising student awards, drafted in consultation with the Office of University Counsel (paragraph 6)

3. Clarification and codification of practices regarding the recording of student awards on student transcripts (paragraph 7)

4. Codification of practice of permitting students registered with the Centre for Accessibility to maintain eligibility for awards if enrolled in an approved, reduced course load (paragraph 15)
5. Creation of mechanism by which first-year students who fail to meet award renewal criteria may be permitted to retain a renewable award (paragraph 17)

6. Creation of mechanism by which eligibility for awards may be limited for students who are eligible to graduate, but choose to continue their studies (paragraph 20)

7. Codification of practices relating to student awards concerning co-op and exchange programmes (paragraphs 21-26)

Marked and clean copies of the revised policy are enclosed.

The revised policy was brought forward to Senate for approval at its September 2018 meeting. Following significant debate, the proposal was referred back to the Committee with the expectation that the Committee would consider the issues raised by Senate and report back to Senate by the present meeting.

There were five issues raised by Senate at the September meeting:

1. Inconsistent criteria for awards and Dean’s list eligibility
2. Credit-load minimums for graduate students
3. Criteria for application of paragraph 17 exception
4. Language used in consultation section
5. Exclusion of summer courses from awards adjudication

The Committee has considered each of these issues, as outlined below.

1. Inconsistent Criteria for Awards and Dean’s List Eligibility

A concern was raised at the September meeting regarding inconsistencies between the criteria for awards eligibility, and the criteria for inclusion on a Faculty’s Dean’s list. For example, the minimum credit-load for awards eligibility is now 24 credits in the winter session, while eligibility for Dean’s lists often requires completion of 27 credits.

The terms of V-200 are set by Senate. Criteria for inclusion on a Faculty Dean’s list (or equivalent other honour) have traditionally been set by the Faculties. The criteria may vary by Faculty, and there is no requirement that Faculties and/or programs offer a Dean’s list or equivalent distinction.

While there is value in consistency between eligibility for these different types of honours, the Committee does not think that control over an honour so closely tied to a Faculty should be lightly removed from the Faculty. With the support of Senate, the Committee would be happy to draft a letter to the Deans alerting them to the change in awards eligibility criteria and inviting the Faculties to consider amending their Dean’s list criteria for consistency with these changes. The Deans would, of course, have the final say regarding eligibility criteria.

2. Credit-Load Minimums for Graduate Students

At the September Senate meeting, questions were raised regarding the applicability of the 24-credit minimum course load to graduate students, as this would result in many graduate students being ineligible for awards. The 24-credit minimum is set out in paragraph 14 of the policy, in the “Undergraduate Awards” section of the policy. This section is not applicable to graduate students. There is no equivalent provision in the “Graduate Awards” section of the policy.

The 24-credit minimum also appears in the definition of “Academic Merit”, in the definitions section of the policy, which defines “academic merit” as a student’s performance in their best 24 credits in a single session. This term has been defined to allow the policy to easily distinguish between academic performance in the sense intended by paragraph 14, from other forms of academic achievement.

Outside of the “Undergraduate Awards” section of the policy, “other academic achievement” is always listed as an alternative to academic merit.1 This allows different academic criteria (such as performance in a single course or lower number of credits, research performance or potential, or publication record) to be applied as an award criteria in the place of “academic merit” as defined in the policy. Accordingly, the policy would not require that graduate students ever be held to this criterion unless specifically required by the terms of an award.

3. Criteria for Application of Paragraph 17 Exception

Paragraph 17 of the revised policy codifies an existing practice of allowing students who fail to meet eligibility criteria for renewable awards to retain their awards under some circumstances. Presently, this is done by awarding a student a one-year bursary of the same value as the award to support the student financially while they work to regain awards eligibility. Typically, this is done where the student misses the renewal standard by a small margin and there are extenuating personal circumstances that account for the student’s academic performance. The revised policy would allow students who fail to meet renewal criteria in first year to retain their original award.

This provision could be applied to all awards, including those administered centrally, and by the Faculties.

1 The definition of “hybrid award” is the exception to this rule, as it does not include this alternative. The purpose of this exception is to assist in easily identifying awards to which the paragraph 14 criteria apply. It would not require that graduate students be held to this standard in any circumstances.
Given the diverse circumstances that may lead to the application of this provision, there is an interest in ensuring that it remains flexible. However, in light of the comments made at the last Senate meeting, the Committee has agreed to amend the previously proposed language to offer some guidance as to how it should be applied:

Recipients of undergraduate Renewable Student Awards who fail to meet renewal requirements in their first year of study due to unforeseen personal circumstances may be permitted to retain their Student Award at the discretion of the Registrar or the academic or administrative unit responsible for administering the Student Award. Students permitted to retain their Student Award after failing to meet renewal requirements in their first year of study will normally not be permitted to retain their Student Award in future years should they again fail to meet renewal requirements.

4. Language Used in Consultation Section

A concern was raised at the last meeting regarding the consultation section of the policy, which lists the individuals and units to whom the policy was sent and from whom feedback was requested.

The language used in this section of the policy is based on that set out in Policy V-1: Format, Development & Administration of Senate Policies. Paragraph 7(m)(iii) of Policy V-1 provides that:

[A] listing under consultations shall only mean that comment was requested from that person or group, and that they were given a reasonable time to respond.

However, in light of the concern raised at Senate in September, and in recognition of the sensitivity around the possibility that inclusion in the list of units consulted may be taken as an indication of agreement with the content of the proposal by those not familiar with policy V-1, the Committee is prepared, if Senate is amenable, to replace the standard text – “The following groups have been consulted during the development of this policy” – with “The following groups were provided with a draft version of this policy and asked to provide comment.”

5. Exclusion of Summer Session Courses from Awards Adjudication

The revised policy retains the current practice of excluding courses taken during the summer session from consideration in awards adjudication. This provision remains unchanged from the original version of V-200, and is consistent with the practice prior to that time.

Summer courses have traditionally been excluded from awards consideration for reasons of comparability. UBC has traditionally operated as a two-session institution (unlike some other institutions in the Province, which operate on a trimester system). Undergraduate students are typically more likely to be engaged in full-time studies during the two terms of the winter session and less likely to be engaged in full-time studies during the summer session. While summer study may be more common now than it has been in the past, a student’s ability to enroll in summer courses will vary depending on the offerings of that student’s Faculty and program, and the student’s personal circumstances, including the financial necessity of summer employment. As a result, the winter session has been viewed as the more accurate basis for comparison of students for the purpose of adjudicating awards.

There is no suggestion that there is a material difference in the academic rigor of summer and winter term courses. The Committee is aware of no data supporting a difference in the difficulty of summer and winter term courses, and this was not a basis for the Committee’s decision to retain this element of the policy.

While the Committee ultimately has not proposed a change to this element of the policy, this issue was considered during the policy development process, and was identified as a potential area for reform, as indicated in the following excerpt from the minutes of the Committee’s December 6, 2017 meeting:

_A member asked why grades earned during the summer session are not considered for awards eligibility._

_The Secretary advised that this has historically been the case as there are concerns about whether it is equitable to compare grades earned over an 8-month period with those earned over a 12-month period._

_A member advised that Faculties are increasingly offering and in some cases requiring summer courses, and that it may make sense to take this into consideration._

_The Secretary suggested that this may be a good question for consultation to determine both Faculty attitudes toward considering summer courses, as well as practices around offering and requiring study during the summer session._

As a result, the following question was included in the request for consultation distributed in January 2018:

_Paragraph 12: The revised policy retains the historical practice of excluding summer session courses from consideration in the adjudication of student awards, which is based on the belief that winter session courses provide a better basis for comparing student performance given the relative uniformity of winter session course-loads, and the variability in whether and to what extent students take courses in the summer session._
The Committee has queried whether this practice should be reconsidered and would appreciate input from responding faculties regarding:

a. The extent students in your faculty routinely taking summer session courses;
b. The extent to which students in your faculty are required to take summer session courses;
c. Whether significant changes in this regard are anticipated in the foreseeable future; and
d. Whether there are notable differences in student performance between winter and summer session courses within your faculty.

The responses received did not indicate support for changing the existing policy. Those responses included the following:2

1. We are fine with excluding summer courses from consideration in the adjudication of student awards.

   The [Faculty] has a small summer program (3 courses of 4 credits each with approximately 20-40 students in each course) and two full term clinical courses (15 credits; ~14 students).

   Our students are not required to take summer session courses; they are optional.

   We do not notice substantial differences between students’ performance in summer and winter session.

2. Students are not required to take summer session courses and we do not anticipate a change to this in the future. In general, we feel that performance in summer is not as good a reflection as winter. Often students are re-taking a course they have failed in the winter term and mostly do not take a full (2 classes per term) load in summer. However, we have not tracked how many students take summer courses.

   The general impression is that there is an increasing number doing so; nor do we track performance in summer versus winter.

3. I still think this restriction is valid. [Faculty] undergraduates are not obliged to study in Summer Session but many do so for a variety of reasons:

   Students in a co-op option may work during winter session and want to take courses in Summer Session.

2 As participants were never advised that their responses might be made public, these responses have been anonymized.
Students who fail a course in Winter Session may use Summer Session to catch up

Keen students may use Summer Session to take courses so as to reduce their load in the next Winter Session

4. Supportive of excluding summer credits as it simplifies administrative requirements for award adjudication, which in turn helps ensure more timely and accurate results for students; possible marginal increase in number of eligible students may not outweigh costs of administrative burden

Credit requirement reduction lessens the need to include summer courses

Certain student groups who may have obligations away from UBC in the summer may perceive a disadvantage if summer credits counted

Consider adding language to policy that would allow awards with small applicant pools to consider summer credits

5. The overall proportion of our summer offerings (relative to the total number of seats) will remain relatively low into the foreseeable future.

In light of the absence of any responses expressing support for including summer courses in awards adjudication, the Committee felt that while this issue is one worth re-visiting in the future, at the present time there did not appear to be sufficient support to warrant a significant change to existing policy, and so the issue was not examined further.

Being mindful of the comments made at the September Senate meeting, the Committee has revisited this issue. The Committee continues to believe that the process by which the decision to retain this element of the policy was sound, and continues to support the draft revised policy in its current form.

The Committee accepts that a change in this provision may benefit some students. However, in a competitive awards environment, any change that advantages some students will necessarily disadvantage others, and the Committee does not believe that such a change should be made without careful study and widespread support across campus. Inclusion of summer study, to which students have varying levels of access, and in which students may be less likely to take a full course load, would introduce a number of new variables into the adjudication process that would have unpredictable results and might result in unfairness if not carefully studied prior to implementation.
Given the support in principle that some members of Senate expressed for consideration of summer courses in awards adjudication, the Committee is prepared, if directed by the Senate, to examine the issue in order to assess whether it may be possible to develop a method of including summer courses in awards adjudication in a form that would be a net benefit to students.

The Committee believes, however, that this would not be a simple enquiry, and would require consideration of issues including:

1. In what circumstances would summer courses be considered? Would a certain summer course load be required? Would summer courses replace or supplement courses taken in the winter session?
2. When would summer courses be considered for awards? Would it require that awards adjudication be delayed?
3. Could summer courses be applied to both new award adjudication and award renewal? Would it vary by Faculty or award program?
4. How would any changes to award adjudication advantage or disadvantage different student groups, such as students in different faculties or programs, students from different socio-economic backgrounds, or students at different life-stages or with different social, familial, or employment-related responsibilities?

The answers to these and other questions would require the collection and analysis of data related to enrolment patterns, and the expected effect of any possible changes and will require collaboration with the Faculties and other units, consultation with students, and significant assistance from staff members.

Given the time, energy, and resources needed to properly consider this issue, the Committee requests that the Senate consider the proposed revision to the Student Awards policy in its current form, including the amendment of 3. above, to allow the University to prepare for the upcoming awards adjudication cycle with certainty regarding the policy context in which it is operating.

Approval of New Awards and Changes to Existing Awards

1. The University shall not normally approve Student Awards of any type other than those the “Student Award Types” defined in this policy.

2. The title of any Student Award approved by the University must include the term defined in this policy that corresponds to the defined “Student Award Type” to which it belongs, except in the case of Hybrid Awards, which may be titled as “Award”.

3. The University shall not approve any Student Award terms that are inconsistent with applicable human rights legislation or offends public policy. No part of this policy should be interpreted to preclude Student Awards that have as their object the amelioration of the conditions of disadvantaged individuals or groups or other bona fide and reasonable justification. When approving Student Awards established through donations from donors to the University for identifiable individuals or groups, the University shall consider the origin and context of the donor’s gift.

4. In approving Student Awards, the University shall consider its stated commitments to equity, inclusion, and diversity.

5. The provisions of this policy are not applicable to the extent they conflict, either generally or in any specific instance, with Board of Governor’s Policy #72 (Access to the University of British Columbia).

6. The Senate reserves the right to change the terms governing a student award, so that they may better meet new conditions, more fully carry out the intentions of the donor, or maintain the usefulness of the benefaction. The rights so reserved shall be exercised by resolution of the Senate duly confirmed by the Board of Governors, provided always that sufficient reasonable notice shall be given in Senate of any proposed change and reasonable efforts shall be made to consult the donor or representative, if known, shall be consulted prior to the approval of the proposed change.

Student Award, the Senate will consult with the Office of the University Counsel to determine the necessary process and approvals required to implement that change.

The process and approvals will depend on factors such as:

(a) Whether the Student Award is funded by the University or a donor;

(b) If by a donor, whether funding is annual or endowed;

(c) If endowed, whether the change is within the scope of the purposes of the endowment or whether the purposes of the endowment would require variation; and

(d) If variation is required, whether the variation of the purposes of the endowment may be approved by the Board of Governors or requires court approval.

Where variation to the endowment purpose must be approved by the Board of Governors, the variation to the endowment purpose must be approved by the Board of Governors before changes to the terms of the Student Award are approved by Senate.

General

7. The recording of Student Awards on a student’s official transcript of academic record shall be determined as follows:

a. Hybrid Awards given in part on the basis of Academic Merit, Fellowships, Medals, Prizes, Scholarships and any other Student Awards given solely or partially based on Academic Merit or other academic achievement, shall be listed on the transcript of academic record unless otherwise approved by Senate.

b. Hybrid Awards given based on criteria that do not include Academic Merit or other academic achievement shall not be listed on the transcript of academic record unless otherwise approved by Senate.

c. Bursaries and any other Student Awards that are solely Need-based, shall not be listed on the transcript of academic record.

8. Student Awards issued by the University are normally first applied to any tuition and other student fees owing. If the amount of the Student Awards Award is greater than any tuition or other student fees owing, the excess amount is paid to the student.

9. The University does not guarantee the payment of any Student Awards other than those funded by the University. In any given year, if invested funds do not provide sufficient income to disburse any endowed Student Award, payment of the Student Award may be reduced or withheld. The University does not guarantee the payment of any student awards other than those funded by the University. The University reserves the right to withhold Student Awards established through donations from donors to the University donated by individuals or organizations where the required funds have not yet been received by the University.

10. A recipient of a Student Award, other than a Bursary, may accept retain the honour of an Student Award but decline resign the monetary value. Any funds so declined will be made available Any funds thus made available will be made available to another eligible student.

11. Scholarships and Student Awards, other than Prizes, Medals or other Student Awards intended for graduating students, awarded for academic achievement in a specific Faculty or discipline or intended for students studying in a particular program are normally conditional upon the recipient maintaining registration continuing studies in the same discipline or program during the funding period following year. A program change to an ineligible Faculty or program discipline will usually normally result in reassignment of any unpaid funds associated with the award to another eligible student.

Undergraduate Awards

12. Unless otherwise stated in the award description, undergraduate Student Awards may be received only by students enrolled at the University during the Winter Session, as defined in the Academic Calendar, are tenable only at UBC (Vancouver or Okanagan Campus) and are open to Winter Session students only. Marks obtained in Summer Session courses are not taken into account in the adjudication of student awards.

13. Marks obtained in courses undertaken during Summer Session, as defined in the Academic Calendar, are not considered taken into account in the adjudication of Student Awards.
Entrance Student Awards and Scholarships other than Bursaries are adjudicated based on a student’s academic and other achievement experience achieved prior to attending UBC. These awards are made on a competitive basis and their purpose is to attract highly qualified students.

14. Subject to Paragraph 11, Continuing scholarships, prizes, or other undergraduate, Scholarships, and Hybrid Awards given in part on the basis of Academic Merit student awards based on academic merit and will normally be given to a student who is

   i. is registered in at least 24 percentage-graded credits in the current session or, for students enrolled in programs customarily requiring credits that are not percentage-graded, is registered in at least 24 total credits in the current session, with the required number of percentage-graded credits determined by the Faculty; and,

   ii. has standing in the top 10% of his/her year and Faculty or an average of 75% or higher (with no failed courses) in the academic session on which the Student Award award adjudication is based. Academic standing for students taking more than 24 credits will be determined on the basis of 24 percentage-graded credits to be chosen in the manner that is most advantageous to the student.

15. Paragraph 14 notwithstanding, students registered with Access & Diversity and taking an approved reduced credit load may remain eligible for Scholarships and Hybrid Awards granted on the basis of Academic Merit if registered in fewer than 24 credits. Academic standing for students taking more than 27 24 credits will be determined on the basis of 27 24 percentage-graded credits to be chosen in the manner that is most advantageous to the student.

16. Recipients of undergraduate Continuing and Renewable Scholarships, Hybrid Awards and other Student Awards given in whole or in part on the basis of Academic Merit scholarships, prizes and other merit-based student awards based on academics are normally expected to be registered in 24 credits in order to retain their Scholarship or Hybrid Award. Scholarships and Hybrid Awards given on the basis of Academic Merit are offered only to those who continue their studies to the satisfaction of the Registrar. Students registered in fewer than 24 credits in their final year of study may retain a Scholarship or Hybrid Award given in part on the basis of Academic Merit and/or be eligible for a Prize or Medal if their Faculty or School confirms that the number of credits in which the student is registered is sufficient for graduation. In this case, the monetary value of the Student Award scholarship may be reduced, prorated.

17. Recipients of undergraduate Continuing and Renewable Scholarships, Hybrid Awards given in part on the basis of Academic Merit and other Student Awards given on the basis of academic achievement who fail to meet renewal requirements in their first year of study due to unforeseen personal circumstances may be permitted to retain their Student Award at the discretion of the Registrar or the academic or administrative unit responsible for administering the Student Award. Students permitted to retain their Student Award after failing to meet renewal requirements in their first year of study will normally not be permitted to retain their Student Award in future years should they again fail to meet renewal requirements.

18. Students who have completed at least one year of study at the University UBC may be eligible to defer certain Scholarships, Hybrid Awards, or other Merit-based Student Awards for up to one year, provided they show satisfactory reasons for postponing attendance. Requests for deferment must be made to Enrolment Services. Students wishing to take up a deferred Student Award deferred from a previous year must advise Enrolment Services in writing before July 1, the first day of the Winter Session, as defined in the Academic Calendar, in which they intend to take up the Student Award, or such other date identified to the student at the time of or prior to the deferral of the Student Award.

19. The University recognizes that students may encounter opportunities or circumstances that could result in a request for deferred admission. Applicants intending to commence the first year of a degree program may request a deferral for one year (or two years in cases of mandatory military service). Students who have been granted deferred admission will automatically have any Scholarships, Hybrid Awards or other Merit-based Student Awards deferred until they begin their study at the University unless the student is otherwise notified at the time.
the Student Award is offered or at the time the deferral of admission is granted.

In order to receive a deferred Student Award, students who are granted permission to defer their admission and therefore their Student Award, will still have to satisfy any conditions of admission imposed at the time of admission, such as completion of courses in progress, maintenance of a satisfactory admission average, and graduation from secondary school. They must apply to take up the deferred offer by the application deadline of the following year, and they must register in the program and at the campus to which they were admitted or will be required to reapply and compete with the new applicant pool for a space.

20. Once a student has completed all requirements to graduate from the degree program in which the student is enrolled and is not otherwise ineligible to graduate, the student’s eligibility for future Student Awards may be limited at the discretion of the Registrar, or in the case of a specific Student Award, the academic or administrative unit responsible for administering the Student Award.

Co-operative Education Programs

21. Students enrolled in co-operative education programs will be eligible to receive payments for Student Awards specifically intended for students enrolled in co-operative education programs during any academic session in which they are enrolled in a co-operative education program.

2. The title of any Student Award approved by the University must include the term defined in this policy that corresponds to the defined “Student Award Type” to which it belongs, except in the case of Hybrid Awards, which may be titled as “Award”.

3. The University shall not approve any Student Award that is inconsistent with applicable human rights legislation or offends public policy. No part of this policy should be interpreted to preclude Student Awards that have as their object the amelioration of the conditions of disadvantaged individuals or groups or other bona fide and reasonable justification. When approving Student Awards established through donations from donors to the University for identifiable individuals or groups, the University shall consider the origin and context of the donor’s gift.

4. In approving Student Awards, the University shall consider its stated commitments to equity, inclusion, and diversity.

5. The provisions of this policy are not applicable to the extent they conflict, either generally or in any specific instance, with Board of Governor’s Policy #72 (Access to the University of British Columbia).

6. The Senate may periodically review the terms of a Student Award so that it may better meet new conditions, more fully carry out the spirit of a gift from a donor or maintain the usefulness of the Student Award. Where the Senate wishes to change the terms of a Student Award, the Senate will consult with the Office of the University Counsel to determine the necessary process and approvals required to implement that change.

The process and approvals will depend on factors such as:

(a) Whether the Student Award is funded by the University or a donor;

(b) If by a donor, whether funding is annual or endowed;

(c) If endowed, whether the change is within the scope of the purposes of the endowment or whether the purposes of the endowment would require variation; and
(d) If variation is required, whether the variation of the purposes of the endowment may be approved by the Board of Governors or requires court approval.

Where variation to the endowment purpose must be approved by the Board of Governors, the variation to the endowment purpose must be approved by the Board of Governors before changes to the terms of the Student Award are approved by Senate.

General

7. The recording of Student Awards on a student’s official transcript of academic record shall be determined as follows:

   a. Hybrid Awards given in part on the basis of Academic Merit, Fellowship, Medals, Prizes, Scholarships and any other Student Awards given solely or partially based on Academic Merit or other academic achievement, shall be listed on the transcript of academic record unless otherwise approved by Senate.

   b. Hybrid Awards given based on criteria that do not include
   Academic Merit or other academic achievement shall not be listed on the transcript of academic record unless otherwise approved by Senate.

   c. Bursaries and any other Student Awards that are solely Need-based, shall not be listed on the transcript of academic record.

8. Student Awards issued by the University are normally first applied to any tuition and other student fees owing. If the amount of the Student Award is greater than any tuition or other student fees owing, the excess amount is paid to the student.

9. The University does not guarantee the payment of any Student Awards other than those funded by the University. In any given year, if invested funds do not provide sufficient income to disburse any endowed Student Award, payment of the Student Award may be reduced or withheld. The University reserves the right to withhold Student Awards established through donations from donors to the University where the required funds have not yet been received by the University.

10. A recipient of a Student Award, other than a Bursary, may accept the honour of a Student Award but decline the monetary value. Any funds so declined will be made available to another eligible student.
11. Student Awards, other than Prizes, Medals or other Student Awards intended for graduating students, awarded for academic achievement in a specific Faculty or discipline or intended for students studying in a particular program are normally conditional upon the recipient maintaining registration in the same discipline or program during the funding period. A program change to an ineligible Faculty or program will normally result in reassignment of any unpaid funds associated with the award to another eligible student.

Undergraduate Awards

12. Unless otherwise stated in the award description, undergraduate Student Awards may be received only by students enrolled at the University during the Winter Session, as defined in the Academic Calendar.

13. Marks obtained in courses undertaken during Summer Session, as defined in the Academic Calendar, are not considered in the adjudication of Student Awards.

14. Subject to Paragraph 11, Continuing undergraduate, Scholarships, and Hybrid Awards given in part on the basis of Academic Merit will normally be given to a student who

i. is registered in at least 24 percentage-graded credits in the current session or, for students enrolled in programs customarily requiring credits that are not percentage-graded, is registered in at least 24 total credits in the current session, with the required number of percentage-graded credits determined by the Faculty; and,

ii. has standing in the top 10% of his/her year and Faculty or an average of 75% or higher (with no failed courses) in the academic session on which the Student Award adjudication is based. Academic standing for students taking more than 24 credits will be determined on the basis of 24 percentage-graded credits to be chosen in the manner that is most advantageous to the student.

15. Paragraph 14 notwithstanding, students registered with Access & Diversity and taking an approved reduced credit load may remain eligible for Scholarships and Hybrid Awards granted on the basis of Academic Merit if registered in fewer than 24 credits.
16. Recipients of undergraduate Continuing and Renewable Scholarships, Hybrid Awards and other Student Awards given in whole or in part on the basis of Academic Merit are normally expected to be registered in 24 credits in order to retain their Scholarship or Hybrid Award. Scholarships and Hybrid Awards given on the basis of Academic Merit are offered only to those who continue their studies to the satisfaction of the Registrar. Students registered in fewer than 24 credits in their final year of study may retain a Scholarship or Hybrid Award given in part on the basis of Academic Merit and/or be eligible for a Prize or Medal if their Faculty or School confirms that the number of credits in which the student is registered is sufficient for graduation. In this case, the monetary value of the Student Award may be reduced.

17. Recipients of undergraduate Continuing and Renewable Scholarships, Hybrid Awards given in part on the basis of Academic Merit and other Student Awards given on the basis of academic achievement who fail to meet renewal requirements in their first year of study due to unforeseen personal circumstances may be permitted to retain their Student Award at the discretion of the Registrar or the academic or administrative unit responsible for administering the Student Award. Students permitted to retain their Student Award after failing to meet renewal requirements in their first year of study will normally not be permitted to retain their Student Award in future years should they again fail to meet renewal requirements.

18. Students who have completed at least one year of study at the University may be eligible to defer Scholarships, Hybrid Awards, or other Merit-based Student Awards for up to one year, provided they show satisfactory reasons for postponing attendance. Requests for deferment must be made to Enrolment Services. Students wishing to take up a deferred Student Award must advise Enrolment Services in writing before the first day of the Winter Session, as defined in the Academic Calendar, in which they intend to take up the Student Award, or such other date identified to the student at the time of or prior to the deferral of the Student Award.

19. Students who have been granted deferred admission will automatically have any Scholarships, Hybrid Awards or other Merit-based Student Awards deferred until they begin their study at the University unless the student is otherwise notified at the time the Student Award is offered or at the time the deferral of admission is granted.

In order to receive a deferred Student Award, students who are granted permission to defer their admission and therefore their Student Award, will have to satisfy any conditions of admission imposed at the time of admission, must apply to take up the deferred offer by the application deadline of the following year, and must register in the program and at the campus to which they were admitted.

20. Once a student has completed all requirements to graduate from the degree program in which the student is enrolled and is not otherwise ineligible to graduate, the student’s eligibility for future Student Awards may be limited at the discretion of the Registrar, or in the case of a specific Student Award, the academic or administrative unit responsible for administering the Student Award.

a. Students enrolled in co-operative education programs during both terms of the winter session, will have Student Award payments deferred until the next winter session;

b. Students enrolled in co-operative education programs during only one of the two terms of the winter session, will be eligible to receive no more than 50% of any Student Award payments provided the student is registered in 12 or more credits during the term in which the student is not enrolled in a cooperative education program.

23. Payments for Student Awards that would normally be deferred under this policy to a future academic session, may be made in extenuating circumstances to students enrolled in co-operative education programs at the discretion of the Registrar or the academic or administrative unit responsible for administering the Student Award.

24. Eligibility for Student Awards in the winter session following the winter session in which a student was enrolled in a co-operative education program will be determined as follows:

   a. Students will not be eligible for Scholarships or Hybrid Awards granted on the basis of Academic Merit in the winter session following a winter session in which the student was enrolled in a co-operative education program during both terms.

   b. Such students will be eligible to receive no more than 50% of the value of any Scholarship or Hybrid Awards granted on the basis of Academic Merit.

   c. Students will be eligible for Student Awards other than Scholarships or Hybrid Awards granted on the basis of Academic Merit in the winter session following a winter session in which the student was enrolled in a co-operative education program during one or both terms.

Student Awards offered to graduate students, unless otherwise approved by Senate, are available only to support students engaged in full-time study and/or research leading to a degree at the University and will normally be paid only if the recipient is registered as a full-time student at the University during the payment period.

28. In cases where students are offered both major University graduate Fellowship or Scholarship funding and external funding for full-time study and research at UBC, the value of the University Fellowship or Scholarship funding will be adjusted as follows: if the value of the external award funding is less than the value of the University Fellowship or Scholarship funding, the student will receive the difference between the major University graduate Fellowship or Scholarship and external award funding. If the value of the external award funding is greater than the value of the University Fellowship or Scholarship funding, the student will normally not receive any University Fellowship or Scholarship funding. In some circumstances, students may remain eligible for the tuition component of their University Fellowship(s) or Scholarship(s).

PREVIOUSLY APPROVED AWARDS WITH CHANGES IN TERMS OR FUNDING SOURCE

Endowed Awards

6518 – J. Armand Bombardier Sustainable Transportation Fellowship

Rationale for Proposed Changes
UBC Development and Alumni Engagement, in collaboration with the donor, is requesting to increase the number of awards available from two to three to account for the large spend amount generated from an additional gift of $100,000 to the endowment in 2017. The Office of University Counsel has reviewed the endowment agreement and confirmed this change to the award description is allowable under the purpose of the endowment.

Current Award Description
Two fellowships of $9,600 have been endowed by Bombardier for graduate students in the School of Community and Regional Planning who are focused on research in any one of the three areas: equity and community engagement, population and public health, and environmental and sustainability issues associated with transportation. Awardees are eligible for an additional $750 in travel funding for research related activities. Recommendations are made by the School of Community and Regional Planning in consultation with the Faculty of Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies.

Two Up to three fellowships of totalling $19,200 have been made available through an endowment established by Bombardier for graduate students in the School of Community and Regional Planning who are focused on research in any one of the three areas:
equity and community engagement, population and public health, and environmental and sustainability issues associated with transportation. 8646 - Dabrowski and Shepherd Award in Environmental Engineering

Rationale for Proposed Changes
The donor has given additional funding to endow this award. The award description has been modified to reflect this change.

Current Award Description
Awards totalling $10,000 are offered annually by Barbara Dabrowski (B.A.Sc. 1978, M.A.Sc. 1981) and Robert Shepherd (B.A.Sc. 1969, M.Eng. 1979) to support graduate students studying Environmental Engineering. Students will be selected based on their progression in their program and also their research productivity. Financial need may be considered. Barbara and Robert met at UBC and both dedicated their careers to Environmental Engineering. These awards are adjudicated by the Department of Civil Engineering in consultation with the Department of Chemical and Biological Engineering and the Faculty of Graduate and Postdoctoral Studies.

Proposed Award Description
Awards totalling $1,400 have been made available through an endowment established by Barbara Dabrowski (B.A.Sc. 1978, M.A.Sc. 1981) and Robert Shepherd (B.A.Sc. 1969, M.Eng. 1979) to support graduate students studying Environmental Engineering. 3965 – Al Fisher Skiing Award

Rationale for Proposed Changes
This award was established through an endowment in 2003, when both the Alpine Skiing Team and the Nordic Skiing Team were varsity sports. In 2014, both teams lost their varsity status and were reclassified as competitive clubs. Both teams currently operate as Thunderbirds Sports Clubs. The endowment was created under the assumption that both teams would include varsity sports members who would be performing at a high level of competition. With both teams having lost their varsity status and becoming competitive clubs, membership is now open to all students regardless of experience or ability. Giving preference to students competing at the highest level of collegiate competition will better reflect the intentions of the original endowment. The Office of University Counsel has reviewed the endowment agreement and confirmed this change to the award description is allowable under the purpose of the endowment.

Current Award Description
One or more awards valued at $500 each or to the maximum value allowed under athletic association regulations, are offered to outstanding members of the Thunderbird Alpine or Nordic Ski Team in any year of study. The awards are made on the recommendation of the President’s Athletic Awards Committee.

Proposed Award Description
One or more awards, which may range from a minimum valued at of $500 each or to the maximum value allowable under athletic association regulations, are offered to have been made available through an endowment established in honour of Al Fisher for outstanding members of the Thunderbird Alpine or Nordic Skiing Team Sport Club in any year of study. Preference will be given to athletes competing at the highest level of intercollegiate competition in Canada and the United States. The awards are made on the recommendation of the President’s Athletics Awards Committee.

applicants, who are now eligible for admission to the DMD program.

Rationale for Proposed Change:

The Doctor of Dental Medicine program, which previously accepted only domestic students, is proposing changes to the academic calendar to permit the admission of international students. This proposal is intended to add diversity to the DMD class, and bring the program in line with the focus on international initiatives in the new strategic plan.

The change strikes out the sentence that previously limited admission to domestic students, indicates that international students may be admitted to the program and provides information about reciprocal accreditation agreements.

The admission of international students would not displace domestic students. Any international applicants would be admitted in addition to the usual domestic class. Tuition for international students has been approved by the Board of Governors.

Proposed Calendar Entry:
Dual Degree Program Option: Bachelor of Arts, UBC and Sciences Po

This program option offers qualified undergraduate students the opportunity to complete an intensive transatlantic dual degree program and, in one course of study, earn both a Bachelor of Arts degree from UBC and a Bachelor of Arts degree from L’Institut d’études politiques de Paris (Sciences Po). The program will be of particular interest to direct-entry students who wish to examine the social sciences and humanities from a cross-cultural academic perspective.

Students in the Dual Degree Program Option complete their first two years of study in France at one of the Sciences Po regional campuses, and their third and fourth years of study at the Point Grey (Vancouver) campus of UBC. At the conclusion of their studies students will earn both a Sciences Po Bachelor of Arts and a UBC Bachelor of Arts.

Present Calendar Entry:
Dual Degree Program Option: Bachelor of Arts, UBC and Sciences Po

This unique program option offers qualified students the opportunity to earn, in one course of study, a Bachelor of Arts degree from UBC and a Bachelor of Arts degree from L’Institut d’études politiques de Paris (Sciences Po). Equivalent in number of credits to five to six years of study, this program option is earned in four years, through intensive study and scheduling.

Students in the Dual Degree Program Option complete their first two years of study in France at one of the Sciences Po regional campuses, and their third and fourth years of study at the Point Grey (Vancouver) campus of UBC. At the conclusion of their studies students will earn both a Sciences Po Bachelor of Arts and a UBC Bachelor of Arts.
and a UBC Bachelor of Arts.

Admission

The Dual Degree Program Option is open to applicants satisfying the direct-entry eligibility criteria for undergraduate studies at UBC’s Faculty of Arts, Bachelor of Arts program. It is not open to applicants transferring from another post-secondary institution or from within UBC, including those already studying in the Faculty of Arts, or to those with a previous university degree.

Individuals interested in pursuing this program option must apply for admission to both UBC and the Dual Degree Program by the start of January. Please see the UBC Future Student Portal to apply to UBC. Please see the Sciences Po and UBC Dual Degree Programs website for specific Dual Degree deadlines and to access the mandatory Dual Degree supplemental application.

Acceptance into the Program Option will be determined by a Sciences Po-UBC Dual Degree Program Option Admissions Committee. An interview may be required. Fluency in French is not required. Successful students are simultaneously admitted to the UBC Bachelor of Arts Dual BA program option and the Sciences Po Bachelor of Arts Dual BA program option.

Applicants who are unsuccessful in their admission to the Dual Degree Program Option will automatically be considered for admission to the UBC Bachelor of Arts Degree Program. For consideration to the Sciences Po B.A. Program (and not UBC), please contact Sciences Po directly.

Degree Requirements

Successful students are simultaneously admitted to the UBC Bachelor of Arts Dual B.A. program option and the Sciences Po Bachelor of Arts Dual B.A. program option.

Applicants who are unsuccessful in their admission to the Dual Degree Program Option will be considered for admission to the UBC Bachelor of Arts Degree Program. No separate request or application is required. For consideration to the Sciences Po B.A. Program (and not UBC), please contact Sciences Po directly.

Degree Requirements

In order to receive both degrees, students must fulfill the individual program requirements for each institution’s specific degree program. Each institution manages its own degree requirements. For the UBC B.A., see Degree Requirements.

At Sciences Po, students must validate the equivalent of 71 UBC credits, including all necessary Foundational Courses and courses required to satisfy specialization requirements, in their first two years of study. At UBC, students must complete 72 credits of coursework, including 12 credits earned in Dual Degree seminars. All seminars take place at UBC after students have completed Years 1 degree program. Each institution manages its own degree requirements. For the UBC B.A., see Degree Requirements.

For the UBC Bachelor of Arts Dual Degree with Sciences Po Program Option, students are required to complete a minimum of 165 UBC credits. These credits consist of two years of coursework completed at Sciences Po, equivalent to 90 UBC credits, and 75 credits of coursework administered by UBC.

With the assistance of Faculty and departmental advising, 60 of the 75 credits administered by UBC should be selected to satisfy specialization and degree requirements. The other 15 credits are earned through seminars and community-based learning experiences unique to the Program. Six of these 15 credits are taught in France in the summer between Year 1 and Year 2, and another six are taught in Vancouver in the summer between Year 2 and Year 3. The final three credits, with instruction based in Vancouver, are completed in the summer between Year 3 and Year 4. Students also have the option of completing an additional three credits of directed studies in their UBC specialization. See the Program website for more information.

Continuation

Students in the Dual Degree Program Option are registered at both Sciences Po and 2 at Sciences Po and may include courses offered only in Summer Session. The remaining 60 credits, including any courses necessary to satisfy UBC BA degree requirements as well as requirements for selected specializations, are approved by Arts Academic Advising. See the Program website for more information.

Continuation

Students in the Dual Degree Program Option are registered at both Sciences Po and UBC simultaneously and must ensure they fulfill the registration and tuition requirements of both institutions throughout their degrees. Information about registration and tuition requirements for each year of the Dual Degree is available on the Program website. Students must also meet each institution’s continuation requirements. However, only those credits administered by the specific institution will apply towards that institution’s continuation policies. For UBC B.A. continuation requirements, see Academic Recognition, Promotion, and Continuation.

Graduation

Students in the Dual Degree Program Option will not be adjudicated for graduation for one degree before requirements for both are complete. Graduates may attend the convocation ceremonies of each institution, and will receive two parchments:

1. UBC, Bachelor of Arts; and,
2. Sciences Po, Bachelor of Arts

For further information about the design of the Dual Degree Program, and to access the application, please see the Program website.

Type of Action: Updated wording. Adjusted requirements to bring them into alignment with the 2018-2023 UBC-Sciences Po Dual Degree Program contract.

Rationale: With the current UBC-Sciences Po Dual Degree Program contract expiring on August 31, 2018, a new 5-year contract has been negotiated between the two institutions. Along with renewing the contract, this process also provided an opportunity to refine the Dual Degree Program based on our shared experience since 2013, when the original contract was signed, and to update the Program based on curricular changes at Sciences Po. The new contract, included with this proposal, has been vetted by both institutions and approved by UBC Legal Counsel, and preparations are being made to have it signed by both parties in August, 2018.

This proposal updates UBC Calendar wording for clarity and precision and to bring it into alignment with curricular amendments at both institutions, as included in the new contract.

Sciences Po recently completed a full curricular renewal of their undergraduate program and are in the process of launching reforms. These curricular changes will apply to Dual BA students (during their first 2 years in the Program) and so must be integrated into the UBC Calendar. Notably, the renewal saw Sciences Po bring their ECTS credit system into line with European Union norms (as part of the approval under the Bologna Process1 for recognition of their undergraduate program as the equivalent of a “licence”, the first part of the European three-cycle system).

The credit reforms caused the number of ECTS credits awarded by Sciences Po in the first two years of an undergraduate program to be reduced by 20.5% (from 180 ECTS over two years in the old system to 143 ECTS over two years in the new system), although the number of hours of instruction on foundational courses (not including electives) was reduced by only 12.5% (from 96 to 84 hours). The Sciences Po credit reduction is reflected in this
The Faculty of Arts also evaluated the seminar sequence required as part of the Dual BA and determined that it required improvement and restructuring to better support student learning and act as a coherent pedagogical spine for the program. Our experience teaching Dual BA seminar courses shows that requiring students to complete UBC courses in France between Years 1 and 2 is inefficient, as they retain little and are unable to connect these seminars with those they must take between Years 2 and 3 (upon their arrival in Vancouver). As such, we now plan to begin teaching the seminar sequence only upon their arrival in Vancouver (after Year 2), thus permitting students to better connect their learning from one seminar to the next and providing an enhanced orientation and transition to their upper years in the UBC BA. We will continue to support Dual BA students studying in France for Years 1 and 2 through academic advising, an approach that has met with much greater success.

We also plan to condense the seminar sequence from 5 courses to 4 courses, and to modify the content of these seminars to enhance student learning through academic engagement in and reflection on the intensive transatlantic educational journey that distinguishes the Dual Degree program. To this end, we plan to eliminate the two “topics” seminars which, upon review, were deemed often to be unrelated to the Dual BA educational experience, and to replace them with a new Year 4 capstone seminar, currently under development. This seminar will be taught for the first time in 2020W, and will call on students to work from within their... academic / disciplinary expertise to create a research project that also calls on them to reflect on their Dual BA journey through international scholarship. Through the capstone seminar they will hone their roles and responsibilities vis-à-vis research ethics, theory and practice and knowledge dissemination, translation and application, in the academy and beyond, continuing the thread of learning from the first three seminars (International Perspectives on Writing and Research in the Social Sciences; Communicating Research to Public Audiences; and Community-Based Research and Knowledge Creation).

Included with this proposal for informational purposes are the following:

- A copy of the 2018-2023 Dual Degree Program Agreement (final version, not yet signed by approved by UBC Legal Counsel)
- A copy of the Sciences Po Bachelor of Arts: Information for Dual Degree Partners curriculum package. This document provides comprehensive information about Sciences Po’s curricular reform, completed in 2017, including the philosophy and principles behind it.
- Two “maquettes pédagogiques”, curriculum maps for each of Year 1 and Year 2, which show the distribution of Sciences Po credits in the first two years of study. Please note that these maps are included in the curriculum package but, given the length of that document, were also included separately for ease of reference.

1The Bologna Process involves 48 European countries who participate in intergovernmental cooperation in the field of higher education to ensure comparability in the standards and quality of post-secondary qualifications, as well as the modernization of education. Sciences Po complying and being approved under this process increases the ease of mobility for students possessing a Sciences Po BA. Co-operative Education Programs
Undergraduate Co-op Options

The Arts Co-operative Education program provides interested and qualified students in the Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Fine Arts, Bachelor of International Economics, Studies, and Bachelor of Music programs with paid work opportunities and preparation for future careers. The Arts Co-operative Education Program is an optional, year-round program, supplementary to academic programs in the Faculty. Three co-op work terms must be completed, including at least one in Term 1 or Term 2 of a Winter Session. Students normally end their degrees on an academic term.

Students wishing to enrol in the Program must apply in Winter Session, Term 1, of their second or third year, and are recommended to have completed the Writing Component of the Writing and Research Requirement and have attained third-year standing (i.e. completed at least 54 credits) prior to their first work term. Academic performance and suitability for the work environment (as judged by the Arts Co-operative Education Program) will be the selection criteria used for Program admission. Total enrolment into the Program is subject to the availability of appropriate work opportunities. Acceptance into the program does not guarantee appropriate co-op work terms in every work term: students must apply and compete for positions, and employers decide whom to hire.

Students admitted into the program are registered by the Arts Co-operative Education Program in the appropriate co-op courses for each search and work term. Payment of the Arts Co-operative Education Program fees is mandatory. This includes fees for each search and work term, and a one-time administration and pre-employment conference/advising fee. See Program and Course Fees.

Students are enrolled in search and work term co-op courses that appear on students’ academic transcripts as non-academic credit.

Bachelor of Media Studies, and Bachelor of Music programs with paid employment experience relevant to their future careers. The Co-operative Education program is an optional, year-round program, supplementary to academic programs in the Faculty. Three work placement terms must be completed, including placements in both Term 1 and Term 2 of a Winter Session. The final term must be an academic term.

Students wishing to enrol in the program must apply in Winter Session, Term 1, of their second or third year and must have completed the writing component of the Writing and Research Requirement and have attained third-year standing (i.e., completed at least 54 credits) prior to their first work term. Academic performance and suitability for the work environment (as judged by the Arts Co-operative Education Office) will be the selection criteria used for program admission. Total enrolment is subject to the availability of appropriate work placements. Acceptance into the program does not guarantee appropriate work placements. Acceptance into the program does not guarantee appropriate work placements in every work term.

Students admitted into the program must register in the appropriate Co-operative Education course for each work term, once a suitable work placement is confirmed. Payment of the Co-operative Education program fees is mandatory. This includes a Co-operative Education Program fee for each work term and a one-time Co-operative Education Program workshop fee. See Program and Course Fees.

Each successfully completed co-operative education course is assigned 3 co-op credits on a student’s academic transcript (i.e., ASTU 310, 311, 410, 411, and 412). In order to graduate in a co-operative education program,
In order to graduate with an Arts Co-operative Education Program designation on the transcript and parchment, a student must complete 3 work terms and corresponding search terms (all co-op credits are additive to the normal 120 academic credits required by the Faculty of Arts for graduation). Completion of the Arts Co-operative Education Program typically requires an additional half- to full-year to complete a bachelor's degree. Arts Co-operative Education Coordinators visit students at their places of work to assess student learning, progress on Arts Co-op professional development assignments (as outlined for each work term course), and liaise with co-op employers/supervisors. Students transferring to UBC from accredited co-operative education programs at other institutions may request admission to the Arts co-op program and may receive credit for previously completed work placement to a maximum of 3 Arts co-op course credits.

For more information please contact the Arts Co-operative Education Office.

Type of Action: Updated language to reflect current program practices in the Undergraduate Co-op Program. Updated terminology. Removed specific course numbers.

Rationale for Proposed Change: The Arts Co-operative Education Program is proposing changes to their courses and how the Co-op experience is reflected on the student record. The changes to this page reflect those changes.

requirements and allows for better data tracking.

Note that UBC considers co-op courses across all 6 co-op Faculties to be for “additive credit,” not academic credit. As a result, co-op course credits do not count towards academic credit requirements for degree completion.

Benefits to Students

Co-op is a Program: students commit to the program for 3 required, and sometimes additional, optional, work terms, and the corresponding number of search terms. The new format makes this plain, and also conveys the value of the demanding work the student invests into the search term and program, concurrent with an academic load. It also makes it clear that students are co-op students from the time they are admitted to the program, rather than just when they are on a co-op work term, and recognizes the level of commitment commensurate with the program, as a result of their acceptance into the program in 2nd or 3rd year right through graduation.

By differentiating the work involved with a search term and a work term, and shifting part of the existing tuition fee from the co-work term to the search term, students will see the search term course on their transcript. This will signal to students and others reviewing the transcript the workload involved in conducting a search term, in conjunction with the student’s other academic courses, and will help serve to recognize the student’s efforts and accomplishments during that term, regardless of whether the student was successful in obtaining a work term position.
While the focus of a search term is to obtain a job, there are other benefits to the search process. This new model signals as well the amount of advising, coaching, and support students receive during their search term, a significant time investment for staff.

Note that we are reducing the existing co-op work term fee by 50% and moving that fee to the new search term course so there is NO FEE INCREASE FOR STUDENTS and no new fees. Existing co-op fees will simply be distributed across two terms instead of one. This will be appealing for some students as they will no longer pay all the fees at once at the start of their co-op term. We are able to do this because UBC does not consider co-op course fees to be tuition fees, but rather program fees. This means that co-op fees are not tied to credit value as tuition for academic courses is, thus giving us flexibility to assign “credit” value for the new co-op search term course which signals to students the hours involved (e.g. approximately 9-12 weekly for a search term) without increasing the cost or extending the amount of time required to complete the Arts Co-op Program.

Like other courses, additive or academic, drop and withdrawal deadline dates will apply to our courses, a system familiar to students. As well, students will be able to follow program guidelines in the academic calendar, information further supported by the Terms & Conditions document that they sign when they join the Program, making expectations, policy and process more transparent. This change is supported by Enrolment Services who have advised that substantial content from our Terms & Conditions document should be in the Academic Calendar. A copy of the 2017 UBC Arts Co-op Program Undergraduate Terms and Conditions document is included with this proposal for reference. This document will be updated to match the new requirements once they are approved.

If a student is unsuccessful in a search term but completed the search term requirements, or if his/her personal circumstance change unexpectedly and cause him/her to need to cease the job search mid-search, there is no penalty, either financial or on the transcript. The search term can be extended at no extra cost and the student registered into a subsequent search course section with no fees attached (even in a non-consecutive term, if the student needs to go home for the term following the interrupted search, for example, and is only able to return following that term). This model would not penalize students who are not able to land a co-op job on their initial attempt if they have fulfilled the search term course requirements.

For those students who have tried unsuccessfully two times to secure a co-op job, we have the option of assigning a withdrawal or fail grade for the search term and reevaluating their participation in the Co-op Program. Note that students who were unsuccessful in their second search, but who fulfilled the search term course requirements and responsibilities as agreed upon in the Terms and Conditions, will normally be withdrawn from the search course. Only those who do not fulfill their agreed-upon requirements and responsibilities for reasons within their control (e.g. lack of interest or... commitment) may be considered for a fail grade.

Benefits to Arts Co-op Program:

Our recent External Review (2017) recommended moving towards a co-op fee model where fees are charged at the true time the cost is incurred to help Program be appropriately funded and help us to better track students’ work/study schedules, which will help with retention rates. As outlined above, spreading the existing co-op tuition fee over 2 terms makes will make payment easier for students as well.

There are no other budgetary impacts for the Faculty/Dean’s Office in making these changes; however, charging fees that match in time with the services provided will help the Arts Co-op Program to be appropriately funded throughout the year in addition to being more transparent with students about the workload of the Program.

All of the exiting ASTU co-op courses (310, 311, 410, 411, 412) will remain intact and in use until current students complete the program; current students in the Program will be given the option of switching to the new model if they prefer.

At this time, we will not make any changes to the graduate co-op courses (ASTU 501, 502, 503, 610, 611, 612, 613). The two systems will run in parallel.

ARTC 100 (3): Arts Co-op Search Term #1

Search term to obtain first work term. Completion of pre-employment workshops, group and individual coaching sessions on job search processes, and minimum number of job applications required. Students apply for jobs and go for interviews until they are hired. This course is not eligible for Credit/D/F grading. Restricted to students in the Arts Co-op Program.

Pre-requisite: None. Completion of Writing Component of Arts Writing and Research Requirement strongly recommended.

Type of Action:

New course (additive credit only)

Proposed Calendar Entry:

ENGL 380 (3-6) d Theory: Meaning and Interpretation

An investigation and overview of theories of interpretation and meaning-making.

Prerequisite: Third-year standing and 3 credits from one of (a) 100-level ENGL or (b) 200-level ENGL or (c) ARTS 001 or (d) ASTU 100 or (e) ASTU 101 or (f) WRDS 150 or (g) WRDS 350. 6 credits of 100- and/or 200-level English courses is recommended. Pre-requisites must be met by the first day of class or students will be withdrawn.

Present Calendar Entry:

N/A

Type of Action:

New Course

Rationale for Proposed Change:

This course is one of a new suite of “Theory” courses offer faculty and students opportunities to engage with significant contemporary critical practices, with emphases on the conceptual. There is no single methodology, ideology or approach that characterizes literary and cultural studies in English, and no single course can accommodate our discipline’s theoretical and methodological work. These courses organize the study of theory in manageable, viable and productive trajectories that reflect and accommodate the conceptual plurality of teaching and research in our current curriculum.
This course, Theory: Meaning and Interpretation, will first review some core concepts of hermeneutics, and then turn to the discussion of modern theorists, concluding with some contemporary contributions to the discussion of interpretation in such fields as Queer theory, Postcolonial theory and Critical Indigenous Studies. Students will test their own assumptions about validity and evidence, and will challenge core concepts of meaning and interpretation to gain productive engagement with hermeneutic methodologies, many of which are at the core of the liberal arts and the humanities.

Hermeneutics, or the art of interpretation, is the foundation of modern practices of textual analysis and meaning-making in the Western tradition, practices which continue to influence the Humanities, Social Sciences and the Law to this day. By problematizing interpretation in terms of the relations of word and world, reader and text, self and other, hermeneutics theorizes the conditions of understanding and community.

This course forms part of an extensive revision by the Department of English to its undergraduate curriculum. New course offerings reflect current developments in the discipline of English Literary Studies; they respond to faculty teaching interests, allowing the development of new curricular approaches with enough flexibility to accommodate the ongoing transformation of our strategy for achieving the pedagogical goals articulated in our departmental learning outcomes; and they articulate relevance to student needs, preparing learners to engage the contemporary world with critical acuity and cultural literacy.

ENGL 398 (3-6) Community-Facing Applications of Language and Literary Studies

Principles and practice of adapting the disciplinary work of language and/or literary studies to the needs of community partners.

Prerequisite: Third-year standing and 3 credits from one of (a) 100-level ENGL or (b) 200-level ENGL or (c) ARTS 001 or (d) ASTU 100 or (e) ASTU 101 or (f) WRDS 150 or (g) WRDS 350. 6 credits of 100- and/or 200-level English courses is recommended. Pre-requisites must be met.

Type of Action:

New Course

Rationale for Proposed Change:

This course, Community-Facing Applications of Language and Literary Studies, contributes to this curriculum revision by offering students opportunities to work with community partners. Among E3 (Enriched Educational Experiences) initiatives envisioned in Alan Sens’ 2012 report, Community Service Learning (CSL) and Community Based Experiential Learning (CBEL) courses have acquired a particularly heightened institutional importance. Place and Promise: The UBC Plan sets out in its “Student Learning” by the first day of class or students will be withdrawn.

section the goal of “strengthen[ing] collaboration with community partners in community based experiential learning and community-based research.” As yet the Department of English has no dedicated Community Service Learning Courses. ENGL 398 addresses that deficit.

This course forms part of an extensive revision by the Department of English to its undergraduate curriculum. New course offerings reflect current developments in the discipline of English Literary Studies; they respond vigorously to faculty teaching interests, allowing the development of new curricular approaches with enough flexibility to accommodate the ongoing transformation of our strategy for achieving the pedagogical goals articulated in our departmental learning outcomes; and they articulate relevance to student needs, preparing learners to engage the contemporary world with critical acuity and robust cultural literacy.

| This course “prepares students to work effectively with Indigenous peoples in support of ongoing developments in Indigenous culture, languages, governance, legislation and litigation.” This course is an essential addition to the iSchool’s offerings in the Master of Library and Information Studies (MLIS) and Dual degree programs (MLIS and Master of Archival Studies) It complements our curricula streams of librarianship, community and culture, interaction design, and data management. |

This course has been taught successfully as the topics course LIBR 569a. It is being changed to a stand-alone course since the iSchool anticipates it will be offered on a regular basis in the future and supports ongoing Indigenous initiatives at UBC. It uses the term “Indigenous Initiatives” in keeping with UBC’s language for initiatives by and with Indigenous people. The course was not developed in collaboration with other UBC units but aims to complement and enrich ongoing First Nations and Indigenous initiatives.

The UBC Guide to the principles of excellent graduate supervision

Supervising graduate students is a complex form of pedagogy, one made even more complicated by the changing nature of the university, the increasing diversity of our students, cross-disciplinary nature of academic research, and development of new knowledge. Within this evolving context, we are committed to supporting the highest quality graduate supervision practices consistent with our world-class research university.

While the vast majority (85%) of our graduate students are satisfied with their supervision at UBC,* surveys also reveal that many would like more consistent and meaningful interactions with their supervisors. Indeed, a healthy, productive supervisory relationship results not only in a successful academic program and outcomes, but also contributes to students' wellbeing and to supervisors' teaching and research excellence.

*(data from the 2016 Canadian Graduate and Professional Student Survey)

This guide outlines seven flexible, interrelated and research-informed principles that characterize high quality graduate student supervision.

Read the complete guide at:
https://www.grad.ubc.ca/principles-graduate-supervision
Students’ learning benefits from individualized supervisory approaches
Students learn more effectively when supervisors’ interactions with them are responsive to their unique learning preferences, passions, questions, knowledge, abilities, experiences, and long-term/career interests. They also benefit when these interactions reflect an awareness of any personal, cultural, and structural challenges students may face.

Student learning develops with both dialogue and guidance
Students develop critical thinking abilities, creativity, and adaptability when supervisors listen to, question, challenge, and guide them, prompting students to reflect on and critically examine their thinking and decision-making processes.

Students’ multi-faceted growth as scholars is supported by supervisors Supervisors play an important role in fostering the development of students’ independence, their ability to ask important questions, their professional competencies, and their scholarly identity, which includes the development of habits of heart and mind.

Students learn from role models
Students gain deep intellectual, ethical, and practical knowledge of their field and of the scholarly profession through exposure to outstanding role models.

Communication is key to teaching and learning and to relationship-building
The supervisory process and student learning are enhanced when mutual expectations about the process are communicated clearly and regularly; and when all communication is done with sensitivity, empathy and recognition of boundaries.

Scholarly and other communities are central to students’ development
Outstanding supervision incorporates, and is supported by, strong communities that assist in shaping students’ scholarly identities, model scholarly integrity, and share the norms of fields, in addition to promoting diversity, inclusivity, intercultural understanding, and equity.

Reflection makes one a better supervisor
Reflecting on and clearly articulating one’s own supervisory and scholarly beliefs and practices can strengthen supervisory abilities.

Re: Report to Senate on Student Evaluation of Teaching, 2017-18

For information:

For the information of the UBC Vancouver Senate, I am pleased to attach the annual report on Student Evaluation of Teaching. The report includes the results for the University Module Items for the 2017W academic year, from September 2017 to April 2018.

The report is submitted in accordance with the Policy on Student Evaluation of Teaching passed by Senate in May 2007, which requires that every course section or learning experience be evaluated by students each time it is offered (with some exceptions as defined by the Policy).

Additional information on student evaluation of teaching is available at https://teacheval.ubc.ca/

2017W SCOPE

A total of 7,968 instructor ratings were submitted to the University, for 6,701 course sections in which the University Module Items were administered. This represent a 1.3% increase in the number of instructor ratings compared to 2016W. A summary of the scope of implementation, by Faculty, is shown in Table 1.

RESPONSE RATES

Zumrawi, Bates and Schroeder (2014) developed a set of recommended response rates based on the observed variability in the UBC ratings of instructors over a 4-year period. Ratings with response rates below this minimum should be interpreted with care, particularly if they are anomalous. A summary of the 2017W response rates by class size is given in Table 4.

In 2017W, 63% of the instructor ratings met or exceeded the minimum recommended response rates. The overwhelming majority (> 90%) of instructor ratings in sections with 75 or more students met or exceeded the minimum recommended response rates. These sections accounted for 54% of total enrollment. More than half of the sections with 34 or less students did not meet the minimum recommended response rates. These sections accounted for 20% of the total enrollment in 2017. These results are comparable to those of the previous year (2016W). Based on the results in Table 4, efforts to increase students’ participation in online surveys will, therefore, continue to be more focused on smaller sections, and in particular sections with under 35 students. In terms of responses to individual UMI questions, 6% less respondents answered UMI question 4, compared to the other 5 UMI questions. This observation is consistent with the literature on students’ rating of instructors.

MAGNITUDE AND VARIABILITY OF RATINGS

The distribution of instructor ratings by score and variability, for UMI questions 3 and 5, are shown tables 5 and 6, respectively. The distribution of UMI question 3 ratings are similar to those of UMI questions 1, 2 and 6, but as shown above, students responded more favourably to UMI question 5 (figure 2). In Tables 5 and 6, average percent favourable rating for each cell is given in parenthesis. Percent favourable rating reflects the ratio of students who rated the instructor a 4 or 5 as a percentage of class responses. As would be expected, percent favourable rating decreases as dispersion increases in the first three rows of table 4, but increases with dispersion in the lower two rows.

Evaluations in the upper left cells of Tables 5 and 6 have high ratings, with low variability, resulting in high percentages of favourable ratings, whereas the lower left cells in the table show low UMI scores, with low variability in students’ scores, resulting in low percentage of favourable ratings.

As evident in Tables 5 and 6, most of the low ratings with low dispersion index (lower left cells of the tables) are from surveys that did not meet the minimum recommended response rates.

Tables 5 and 6 provide an analysis of UMI ratings and the associated variability in instructor rating, as measured by the dispersion index. As an example of how to interpret this, consider the penultimate row in table 5. There are 456 instructor ratings within this rating band of UMI 3 score between 3 and 3.5. Of these, 343 have a dispersion index larger than 0.55, and within these 343 instructor ratings, there is (on average) 50% of respondents who rate these instructors favourably (the sum of ‘agree’ and ‘strongly agree’ categories on UMI 3). Within this subset of the dataset, it would be plausible to find a UMI score of e.g. 3.4, where more than half the student respondents rated the instructor favourably. This illustrates the additional insight gained from considering both the raw UMI score and the variability in instructor rating that this measure of dispersion provides.

Low ratings with high dispersion should be interpreted within context, considering factors such as response rate, class size and the magnitude of the dispersion.

Few instructor ratings with extreme dispersion index, met the minimum recommended response rate (last column in tables 5 and 6). It is worth noting that such extreme distributions, indicative of polarized ratings, are not common and mostly occur in smaller classes; often the minimum recommended response rate is not met. For example, in the previous year (2016W) only one such extreme instructor rating met the minimum recommended response rate; and in 2015W, none of the ratings (with a dispersion exceeding 0.85) met the minimum recommended response rate.

An example of instructor ratings with extreme dispersion is shown in figure 3. This example is for a section with 8 students, of whom 6 responded (75% response rate); with a 67% favourable rating (strongly agree), a median of 5 and a mean score of 3.7.

“IN-CLASS” SUBMISSIONS AND RESPONSE RATES

At the beginning of the 2013 academic year, the Provost and VP Academic Office requested that instructors set aside time in class for students to complete online surveys. To determine whether this had an impact, we used survey submission time stamps as a proxy for compliance. A high proportion of submissions within a 15-minute time span could indicate that submissions were done in-class (random checks of the course schedule indicated that this assumption was reasonable).

Over the past three years, we monitored and consistently observed an increase in response rates and decrease in the variance of these rates as the proportion of “in-class” submissions increase. This trend is more pronounced in some Faculties. An example is shown in figure 3. In this example, sections with more than half of the respondents completing the survey “in class”, had response rates of 40% or higher.

We encourage faculty members to set aside time in class for students to complete online evaluations. Those students who cannot complete the evaluations in the time given, can save them and complete them later.

PUBLICATION OF RESULTS

In keeping with Senate Policy and provincial privacy legislation (FIPPA), instructors are given the option of publishing the numerical results of the six University Module Items. In accordance with FIPPA, faculty members need to consent to publication for every section, every time it is offered. For 2017W, results for 7.4% of course evaluations were published, compared to 7.6% for the previous academic year (2016W).

1. That the question of whether and how summer session courses can be included in awards adjudication be referred to the Senate Awards Committee, and that the Committee be required to submit a report to Senate by the April 2019 Senate meeting.

2. That a report on the metrics selected to evaluate UBC’s Strategic Plan, Shaping UBC’s Next Century, and progress on these metrics be presented to Senate annually in the spring term until the end of the lifespan of the strategic plan.

For the Senate’s reference, Rule 21(e) provides that:

Any member may request in writing to the Secretary of the Senate that the Agenda Committee include on the agenda of the next regular meeting any such matter that the member requests the Senate to consider. After receiving notification from the Secretary of Senate, the Agenda Committee shall include the matter on the proposed agenda of the next regular meeting of Senate.
