ADMISSIONS COMMITTEE

Dr. Will, Chair of the committee, presented the report.

Faculty of Education - written English requirement

A proposal for revisions to the Faculty of Education Calendar statement on the written English requirement was referred to the Senate Admissions Committee at the May Senate meeting. The committee recommended approval of the following statement. The committee's recommended revisions are shown in italics.

All candidates admitted to a program leading to teacher certification must provide evidence of a satisfactory standard of written English before beginning their extended practicum. Those who have had all their post-secondary study at an English-language institution(s) are presumed to have achieved a satisfactory standard of writing in the English courses required for admission. All other candidates will be required to provide evidence of satisfactory achievement by means of an acceptable English language test.

Candidates who do not provide evidence of an acceptable standard of English during the program may be required to sit a test of written English. On the basis of the results of this test, candidates may be required by the Faculty:

1. To improve their standard of written English before proceeding to the extended practicum and/or before being recommended for the B.Ed. degree and a teaching certificate, or
2. to withdraw from the Faculty.

COMMITTEE ON STUDENT AWARDS

New awards (see Appendix)
In presenting the report Dr. Cook drew Senate's attention to the R. Howard Webster Foundation Fellowships and noted that the total amount of the fellowships should read $60,000, not $25,000. Dr. Cook also noted that the David Crombie Entrance Scholarship should read the David Crombie National Entrance Scholarship and that the words "at least" should be inserted before the amount of $2,800. Dr. Cook informed Senate that for the past five years UBC has been offering National Entrance Scholarships funded from the general operating funds of the University. Dr. Cook noted that this scholarship was the first funded national entrance scholarship.

Dr. Cook

That the recommendations for the 1993-94 student elections to Governing Bodies be approved.

Evaluation of Senate Committees

The following proposal from Mr. Woo had been circulated:

At the September meeting of Senate, the Senate Nominating Committee effectively disbanded a committee by according it with zero membership. The rationale for such a move was based on the fact that this committee had not met in several years. This would imply that this committee was no longer functioning as a useful tool of Senate.

Inasmuch as Senate committees are one of the principal tools by which Senate discharges its mandate, it would be inappropriate that Senate should allow these tools to become blunted and dull over time. It would appear appropriate that a systematic review of the terms of reference of each of the Senate's standing committees be undertaken to sharpen the focus of each committee.

The purpose of such an undertaking would be to ensure that each committee of Senate is functioning effectively to optimally serve the needs of the Senate. This in turn will ensure that the Senate itself is acting as an effective body. Of particular importance is that this evaluation investigate ways in which the terms of reference for committees can allow the committees to proactively investigate issues of academic importance to this University rather than playing a reactive role as issues arise.

I therefore propose the following motion:

"Whereas the effectiveness of Senate committees is important to the overall ability of the Senate to discharge its mandate of academic governance, and whereas the Senate Nominating Committee is charged with the duty of setting out the terms of reference for Senate committees, be it resolved that Senate direct the Senate Nominating Committee to systematically evaluate the effectiveness of the terms of reference of each of the standing committees of Senate and report back to Senate with appropriate recommendations to ensure that each committee is functioning:

a) in a manner relevant to the current academic governance of this University, and

b) is capable of proactively investigating issues before they arise.

be it further resolved that the Senate Nominating Committee recommend to Senate how often and by what mechanism future evaluations of the terms of reference of Senate committees should take place.

SENATE AGENDAS
For the benefit of new members of Senate, Dean Richards, Chair of the Senate Agenda Committee, explained that the Senate Agenda is prescribed in general terms by section 36 of the University Act, Powers of Senate, a copy of which can be obtained at the University Bookstore. Dean Richards also drew Senate's attention to section 3.5 of the Rules and Procedures of the Senate, previously circulated to members of Senate, which deals with the order of business for Senate. In general, the matters which arise on the agenda for Senate come in a fairly straightforward manner arising from reports of committees of Senate. However, any member may request in writing to the Secretary of Senate that the Agenda Committee include in the agenda of the next meeting any such matter that the member would like to have Senate consider and any member may give notice of motion from the floor of Senate whereby the motion shall be on the agenda for the next regular meeting of Senate.

SCHOOL OF FAMILY AND NUTRITIONAL SCIENCES
Dr. Will noted that the School of Family and Nutritional Sciences was celebrating its 50th anniversary, and asked Senate to join him in extending, through the Dean of Agricultural Sciences, best wishes to colleagues, students and alumni of the School on this significant occasion.

STUDENT SERVICES
Mr. Marsden, student senator, noted that approximately 25% of students are part-time. He stated that these students often work during the day and take courses at night. Mr. Marsden asked the Registrar if it would be possible to extend the hours of operation of some of the student services, perhaps one night a month, to accommodate those students who are not able to get to the office during working hours.

Dr. Spencer responded that this matter was currently under review and it was hoped that service would be available at least one evening per week.
